

● Four Points Hotel by Sheraton, Oran – Algeria

December 21st, 2016 by retail design blog

The lighting solutions by B LIGHT – leading producer of LED luminaires – contribute to the creation of the warm and welcoming atmosphere of the exclusive Four Points Hotel by Sheraton in Oran, Algeria. Designed by architectural firm Studio Fabris & Partners, this modern and innovative building rises up on the seafront and gives its guests a dreamlike view of the Mediterranean Sea. The charm of the sea – offering its breathtaking natural panorama – combined with the maximum comfort of every interior and exterior space, makes the Four Points Hotel by Sheraton a unique place, which brings beauty and functionality together and gives life to the ideal rooms to work and relax.

For the indoor lighting, B LIGHT chose several products of the Altas range: these dimmable downlight round luminaires are perfect to highlight any environment thanks to the minimal design and the uniform and clear lit effect. Among other requests, B LIGHT had to grant the possibility to manage 23 different circuits for lobby, restaurant and meeting rooms, in order to create some fixed light settings. For this purpose, they used some Smart Dimm interfaces by B LIGHT, remotely controlled by a DMX-KNX Gateway and a touch panel located in the reception, in order to manage every circuit in On/Off and dimming, supervise potential group switchings and recall saved settings (three for the restaurant and three for the lobby).

The exterior details of the side facade are lit by Linear Tube 112 Slim, a modular and dimmable wall-installed linear luminaire, perfect to highlight the architectural volumes, even for the most sophisticated buildings, thanks to the completely homogeneous light distribution. For the outdoor ramps, B LIGHT chose Button 100 DO, the drive over luminaire able to draw light paths conceived by the designer. Atria X1, downlight luminaire for outdoor applications, lights up the front entrance of the hotel: thanks to B LIGHT's welcoming light, guests can feel at home immediately, anytime they arrive. In Oran, B LIGHT's technology lives in harmony with the innovative architecture and the beauty of nature, creating an irresistibly charming space.